

The Corriere Bologna, founded in January 2007, offers the city top quality local news and information, adopting the same approach as the Corriere della Sera: authority, balance and impartiality.

The daily paper focuses great attention on administrative and institutional life, to providing coverage of issues of importance to the citizens.

The Corriere Bologna provides comprehensive and objective content thanks also to the way it offers varying viewpoints on topical issues and debates.

The Corriere Bologna places great importance on leisure time, providing an entertainment guide, a highly useful tool in a city with a significant student population.
