

Corriere is the roman soul of the most widespread national information newspaper.

It supplies news, local current affairs and useful information to complete the daily overview given by Corriere della Sera.

It is composed of 16 pages distinguished by high impact advertising positioning and by a wide range of layouts, aiming at satisfying the communication needs of a particularly active, productive and commercial environment, which is constantly looking for strong and authoritative brands of Middle.

FIRST APPEARED: 2000

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF:

Luciano Fontana

FREQUENCY: daily

CIRCULATION:

ADS 2016 28,322 copies

READERSHIP: Audipress 2017.2

254,000 readers (adults)